

I urge the commissioners to vote against the proposed rules. There is already tremendous consolidation in the media. It would favor those who are already involved and make it difficult for new voices to enter the media.